

GALLON OF LIQUOR FIXED BY THE LAW FOR MISSISSIPPI

Jackson, Miss., April 6.—One gallon of whisky or one case of beer is the maximum quantity of intoxicants that can be legally ordered within any thirty-day period by a resident of the state of Mississippi, under the provisions of the Mott-May-Lewis liquor law, which went into effect today. The statute applies to the entire state, and was enacted by the last legislature. The law also prohibits the operation of lockers.

After Common Carriers.

Washington, April 6.—The Cummins bill to make common carriers liable for full value of shipments was favorably reported today from the senate. The bill provides for making amendments to require full damages for live stock and making changes in the nature of the interstate commerce commission to prove rates on certain values.

SHE WANTS CHILDREN KEPT IN THEIR HOMES

Philadelphia, April 6.—Miss Mary Bartelme, Chicago's woman judge, today occupied a seat on the bench with Judge Gorman while he heard the case in the house of detention. Later she described some of her experiences while presiding in the Chicago juvenile court and protested against the growing tendency to commercialize the treatment of children.

"We should try to keep the children in their homes," said Miss Bartelme. "Recreation should be provided for them. In Chicago, I am sorry to say, the boys and girls crowd the saloons and their recreation is commercialized. I hope this is not true of Philadelphia."

Miss Bartelme also made a plan for the care of the girl between the ages of 13 and 16 years.

"I sometimes think," she said, "that it would be better to allow a girl to work between the ages of 1 and 16 years and then look after her when she is between 13 and 16 years."

Under Guard.

"Is he husked?"

"Is he? His wife goes with him to the manure."

INDICTED FOR MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE

New York, April 6.—The arrest today of Morris Strumpacher, secretary and treasurer of the cloak and shirt-makers' union, revealed that he and two other officers of the union had been indicted for murder in the first degree. Max Sigman, first vice president of the International Ladies Garment Workers' union, was arrested yesterday under these indictments.

It is charged that Strumpacher and Sigman and a third man caused the death of Herman Liebowitz during the

LABOR CONTEMPT CASE IS ORDERED REARGUED

Washington, April 6.—The Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison contempt case today was reargued to the docket of the supreme court for reargument April 20 before the entire bench.

The three labor leaders stand convicted of contempt of court in the cloak store and range case. Some observers draw the inference from the reargument that the court was divided on the case and the return of Justice Lorton to the bench today led to the restoration of the case for a second argument.

Mrs. Wilson Goes Motoring.

Washington, April 6.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson went motoring today for the first time in several weeks. She has entirely recovered from an injury sustained by a fall over a rug in the white house.

Rich Prize List Offered In Constitution's Contest Has Amazed the Public

The announcement in Sunday's issue of The Constitution of the most striking advertising campaign ever attempted by an Atlanta paper, through the use of the mails, to bring votes and cash are to be distributed, has amused the public. Popular voting contests, such as this campaign will inaugurate, are common enough on a smaller scale. Seldom in the whole country has a public man offered a share in such high proportion to his constituents. The Constitution's Campaign will distribute in the latter part of June this year. The most cursory glance will reveal the value of the offer. It is not only the money which will be distributed, but the fact that the candidates all have a splendid chance to win. The territory has been so equally divided that all candidates have an equal opportunity at any price.

The not warmly commended feature of the contest is the provision that the subscribers who first subscribe who fail to obtain a listed award will be paid a cash prize. The Constitutionists have always dealt frankly with its readers in its news and editorial matter, and so it will deal in this subscription contest. This is a commendable situation has pledged its honor, based upon years of financial dealing, to distribute fairly this splendid list of prizes as set forth in the means and regulations governing same. It means that the Constitution is not making money. It is making a list of 25,000 names, and it is giving out $50,000 worth of prizes and cash for the purpose of adding new friends to its already large list of appreciated patrons.

Many Nominations Certain.

Nominees in this campaign should remember they will be backed by the south's greatest newspaper and such backing means success if the proper effort is put forth by the nominee. In view of the hearty appreciation of the exceptional opportunity expressed by the general public, it is reasonable to suppose that there will be many more interesting candidates than will appear when the first list of nominees is published in a few days. It is a good plan for those intending to try for an award to get their names in to the Constitution office as soon as possible, so that they may receive the necessary information, etc.

competition that no matter where you live or what your business may be, your opportunity to obtain one of the grand prizes is as good as that of any other candidate. For the purpose of this contest, the state of Georgia and contiguous territory has been divided into nine districts. These nine districts are divided into two grand divisions. Atlanta, Ga., and suburbs, consisting of four districts, comprise the first grand division. Outside of that city, consisting of five districts, comprise the second grand division. In each of the two divisions an Oakland sweepstakes is being conducted; fully seven-eighths of value, $252,500. Atlanta will be given five districts of districts. And, as a second prize, a Vellie five-passenger touring car of $1,500.00 value f. o. b. Atlanta will be given.

Overland Prize Offered.

After the two grand division prizes winners have been eliminated, the contestant standing highest in each of the nine districts will be awarded an Overland touring car valued at $1,150.00.

RESERVE BANKS

Every Effort Will Be Made to Expedite New System. Several Steps Must Be Taken by the Banks.

Washington, April 6.—Every effort will be exerted by the federal reserve bank organization committee to have all banks expedite the formal steps necessary to put the new currency system in operation.

Members of the committee apparently have no expectation that there will be any financial crisis to face requiring the assistance to banks which the reserve system will provide, but they are particularly anxious to have the twelve reserve banks in the field when crop moving time comes around next fall. They hope to be able at that time to demonstrate how easily and quickly the reserve system will take care of a situation which in previous years has caused financial worry, and which last fall led to direct loans from the United States treasury to national banks in the farming regions.

Up to the Banks.

Under the law the several steps to be taken by the banks might be delayed so that there would be little chance of setting the reserve banks up before autumn. However, the banks respond promptly there is little reason to believe that the organization will be delayed longer than necessary. The committee has worked at full speed on its part of the work, and tomorrow the formal notice will be sent to the 1,344 banks which are entitled to the reserve system. The notice will set out the requirements of the reserve banks and the limits of reserve districts. With the notice, it will go blank on which banks must apply for subscriptions for stock in the respective reserve banks. Thirty days are allowed for banks to make the first payment on the subscription per cent of their capital and surplus.

As soon as banks in any one district have subscribed the required capital necessary for a reserve bank, the succeeding steps of the organization will be promptly taken. The reserve bank will give the directors of the reserve banks will exercise their right to elect nine directors of each reserve bank.

Federal Reserve Boards.

President Wilson probably will name the five members of the federal reserve board. It is anticipated that by the time the reserve bank charters have been granted, the board organization is expected to do its utmost to treat the organization as a whole. The reserve board will name the three directors of each reserve bank and with this task performed the banks will be ready to operate.

Officials here were interested to know in what limitations the reserve banks will have much power over associations, but one is authorized to care toward curtailing their might. The board, however, is not expected to interfere with the operations of any such association, but its action may take the line between a grip, particularly in the larger cities.

Loans to Move Crops.

Secretary McAdoo tonight announced the results of the direct loans made at crop moving time last fall. Treasury funds were deposited in 132 banks in 47 cities in 34 states for a total of $27,346,000. The last of the loans were repaid by the farmers at an interest of 2 per cent. The government received a total of $260,000, representing a clear profit. Mr. McAdoo said that the fact that the restoration of confidence was so ready to render such assistance.

PHANTOMS IN COURT
TELL THEIR STORY

Finally, he started coming home late. He came home one night and his wife had gone to her mother's. He went after her, and there was a quarrel. They made it up. There were more of these. The man got drunk, and lost his job. The man got drunk, and lost his job. The man got drunk, and lost his job.

Any Excuse

Would Do

"But about the poker?"

The phantom gave an unpleasant chuckle.

"Oh, about that? Why, the last time I wrote him she said if there was any objection to her testifying that he'd beaten her."

"Testify to anything?" And there you was!

"Decree granted!" came from the bench.

"Another case had gone through the mill. There was a suppressed cry behind the visitor's back. The phantom—a woman this time.

"Her husband just got divorce on grounds of desertion," explained the stout phantom.

"He drove me to it!" cried the woman. "She burst into tears. I stood it as long as I could! But he drove me to it."

"A particularly interesting case," said the stout phantom.

"The phantom who was married to a young fellow who was quite brilliant and extremely proud of himself. You noticed him on the witness stand, didn't you? Good looking, and so kind and honest looking that the jury believed every word he said. I suppose he loved it. I do. Well, the truth of the case is that the young fellow found that a wife hampered him. He wanted to be a success. He wanted to be a success. He wanted to be a success."

"No, did he not for a moment?"

"Ah, he was a clever one. No, that he did not love him. The clever one all do."

"The woman loves him very why. She worshipped the ground he walked on. But he didn't want to think so. And he didn't love him to fit his demands on him. That's what he wanted. He wanted to be a success. He wanted to be a success. He wanted to be a success."

"Then, when she didn't meet them. Then, when she didn't meet them. Then, when she didn't meet them."

"Nagged her into leaving."

"Well, I won't go into details. You've got the groundwork. He finally asked him to leave him. It's easy to do when you know how. He was a success. He was a success. He was a success."

"But, in the witness stand, that young man was thoroughly convinced he was a martyr, and that he was a martyr. He was a martyr. He was a martyr. He was a martyr."

"The stout phantom shook his head."

"Decree granted!" came from the bench. Another case had gone through.

Judge Ellis was speaking. The phantom was speaking. The phantom was speaking.

"But at this moment Mr. Burdette's voice rang out."

"Court adjourned." The phantom instantly vanished, the court was a last derisive chuckle.

"That's the case today," said the deputy.

"Two of them were for second marriage. Some were for divorce. Some were for divorce. Some were for divorce."

Council Gets Rude Shock
When Nutting Leads Fight to Sustain Mayor's veto

Evidence of hostility between Mayor James G. Woodward and Jesse B. Lee, former councilman, cropped out in the general council meeting yesterday afternoon when Lee led a forlorn fight to override the executive veto of the school to the park department.

Friends of the mayor and a few who have consistently opposed him rallied to the support of the veto. It was sustained by a vote of 18 against 7.

Members of council were given a great surprise during the debate on the mayor's veto message when Alderman James B. Nutting, heretofore regarded as Woodward's bitter foe, took the floor and argued eloquently in defense of the executive's action.

Nutting Explains Vote.

"I think this is the first time I have not voted to override the mayor," Alderman Nutting declared. "I have consistently voted against him, but in this instance I believe he is right, and whenever I believe he is right I am going to support him."

When councilmen and aldermen recovered from their awe and whistled over their heads to each other, and in a spirit of jest Councilman Ben S. Shepard, of the third, who is also regarded as Woodward's bitter foe, took the floor and urged the appointment of a committee of five to investigate the cause of the apparent friendly feelings between the mayor and Alderman Nutting.

The committee was appointed and Councilman Lee was named as its chairman. The investigation, but subsequently, when the committee asked for an appropriation of $1,000 to be taken from the school department, the investigation, the chair dismissed the committee.

The sixth ward, by the way, is Alderman Nutting's ward.

Mayor Woodward based his veto of the school department on the contention that the resolution was irregular, and he urged council to allow the school department to remain within its control. To transfer the property to the park board would have meant that should the school ever want to revert to its former position, it would be under the park board.

Councilman Lee was aided in his fight by Alderman Madox, who argued that the fifth ward did not want a warehouse building, but desired a park on the school site. Alderman Thomas also joined in the movement to override the mayor.

After the vote was counted, but before Clerk Taylor announced the result, Alderman Madox asked the privilege of changing his vote and was recorded as having voted for the mayor.

The line-up was as follows:

Mayor Woodward also returned, and after a short speech, he then authorized Chief of Construction Clayton to advertise for bids for material for sewers and streets.

The mayor took the position that council's intention creating the office of purchasing agent takes from the various departments the power to purchase the bids up to the purchasing agent, and that this was an interference with the department's power.

CHIEF OF POLICE WILKINSON AND MOORE Declare That Atlanta Cannot Afford to Lose This Organization.

President M. R. Wilkinson, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and former President Wilmer L. Moore, now one of the directors of that body, made strong statements yesterday at the annual meeting of the Atlanta Police Association, held at the Hotel Hamilton, to the effect that the city cannot afford to lose the police organization.

President Wilkinson points out that the United States government offers advantages to young men to enter its military service and he feels that the national guard, which is the main source of protection to the city, and state, should be afforded every possible encouragement.

"I have read the editorial in Sunday's paper urging employers to give their men every possible opportunity in connection with militia service," President Wilkinson said, "and I heartily agree with it. There is no question in my mind that Atlanta's splendid record can be recruited and maintained without imposing hardships upon the employers."

Mr. Moore said that he could not understand the argument of those who are joining the national guard, especially where they use their own time for drill and where their absence would cause a result of military service is, at most, a brief one.

"Atlanta must not let the Fifth be strong as language can put it. I want to say that it is not only our duty, but it should be our pleasure to maintain the Fifth at full strength. Our Atlanta employers are not unreasonable. They know the necessity for a strong national guard as the surest check upon mob law and disorder, and many of them are already permitting their employees to enlist. I have no doubt that practically all the others will follow suit when the matter is properly presented to them."

SUPREME COURT HOLDS WITH WAYCROSS MAYOR

Waycross, Ga., April 6.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court of Georgia has upheld a decision rendered by the Georgia Court of Appeals in a case then mayor, imposing a $100 fine on a traveling representative of a St. Louis lighting rod concern.

Dr. W. B. I'M A MURDERER, YOU'G MAN SAYS

Van Goosby Confesses Crime and Asks to Be Arrested—Afflicted With a Homicidal Mania.

Danville, Va., April 6.—"I'm a murderer and I want to be arrested," said Van Goosby, a well-dressed young white man, to Police Officer Petty of this city, shortly before midnight Saturday.

The officer looked at the man as if to determine whether he were joking or not, but Goosby continued: "I mean what I say, I am wanted in Georgia for murder, and I committed the deed at Douglas. My name is Van Henry Goosby."

The man was so persistent and so thoroughly in earnest that Petty took him into custody and escorted him to jail. Goosby told the officer he had killed his stepfather, man named Hodge, and had been tried and acquitted. Later, while residing at the same place, he claims to have been seduced and upbraided by Tom Hodge, a brother of the man he had killed.

Words led to an altercation in the course of which Goosby killed the second man and fled, coming to this city in company with his brother, who assumed the name of King.

While his brother, he asserted, assumed the name of Saunders, Goosby secured employment in a cotton mill under his assumed name.

On Sunday, just after dinner, Goosby, who was confined in a cell with two misdemeanor prisoners, wrenched a metal plunger from the plumbing equipment of the cell and without warning assaulted his fellow prisoners. Their cries summoned the jailer, who disarmed the man. City Physician Hudson, who examined Goosby, expressed the opinion that he has homicidal mania and ordered him isolated in a secure cell.

To Be Brought to Georgia.
Douglas, Ga., April 6.—Today Sheriff J. C. Gillis, of Coffee county, received a telegram from the chief of police of Danville, Va., advising him that Van Goosby had surrendered to him and confessed that he was wanted in Swanton, Ga., for killing his stepfather.

On September 25, 1910, Goosby, in a dispute over a game of cards is said to have shot and killed his stepfather, J. J. Rowe, six miles from Swanton, Ga., and fled. At the term of court in 1910 the grand jury returned an indictment against him for murder. Sheriff Gillis will send a deputy for Goosby, who, it is understood here, will come back without requisition papers for trial.

REBEL FOREIGN POLICY EXPLAINED BY CARRANZA

General Is Willing to Accept the Mediation of the United States.

El Paso, Texas, April 6.—A carefully worded communication from General Carranza dealing with the rebel foreign policy was made public today by Dr. Henry Allen Tupper, of the International peace forum. Dr. Tupper interviewed General Carranza at the request of Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas. The latter said in part: "I possess a deep admiration for the American people and hold in great esteem the principles of democracy. Wilson and Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, I know they are men of the very highest mentality as well as moral and political aims and for that reason I think that their friendship toward Mexico and the sympathy evinced for the principles of the American constitution are not only sincere, but entirely disinterested, and are the result of the existing harmony between the aims of the cause which I have the honor to represent and the ideals of American democracy."

"As long as I am at the head of the constitutional army, or in any other office, my policy will be to strive in such way as to have our international obligations complied with and have our relations with foreign governments become more and more cordial, especially with such countries as have their destiny linked with the political, economic and personal interests of Mexico."

Regrets Misunderstanding.
"I sincerely regret that incidents of an international character should have given rise to an interpretation not entirely in accord with my real attitude as the chief of the constitutionalists. I have striven to place myself in the legitimate light deserved by the high aims of our party without overlooking the cordial suggestions which were offered me in the attitude just expressed, neither evading responsibility for our conduct nor evading the consequences of our actions."

In accordance with this attitude, all representations and matters called to our attention by the United States in an unofficial way have in the past received our prompt attention, and I assure you that hereafter the same attention will be given to all representations and matters presented to us by the United States in its official capacity, notwithstanding the fact that we have been unable to receive from the United States government the recognition of our status as a nation, and to avoid responsibility being thrust upon us by the United States in the present of its attitude toward the political conditions now existing in Mexico."

To Accept American Mediation.
"In accordance with the views above expressed, I repeatedly stated and now reiterate that I am at all times disposed to give attention, for instance, to foreign representations brought to my attention through the offices of American representatives, provided, of course, that we are notified that such attention is at the request of our government."

"I can conceive no better evidence of the spirit of cordiality and friendship which we bear toward the United States than our willingness to receive from the United States government the recognition of our status as a nation, and to avoid responsibility being thrust upon us by the United States in the present of its attitude toward the political conditions now existing in Mexico."

ATTACKED CATHOLICS AND GOT INTO TROUBLE

Rev. Otis L. Spurgeon Badly Beaten at Denver—His Nose Broken.

Denver, Colo., April 6.—Rev. Otis L. Spurgeon, of Des Moines, who was forcibly escorted from the city last night by unidentified men because of attacks on the Catholics from a lecture, was brought to a local hospital today suffering from injuries at the hands of his assailants. No one was allowed to see him.

In a lecture here Saturday night Spurgeon accused Catholic priests with immorality. Last night a party of seven men visited Spurgeon at his hotel and tried to force him to leave. He was badly beaten and released after being given $2.00.

Spurgeon succeeded in reaching the house of a deputy sheriff who brought him to the hospital.

Spurgeon's nose was broken and he suffered other injuries.

ACCUSER OF PREACHER RECEIVES A THREAT

New York, April 6.—A threatening postal card sent to Mrs. Hilma Dohi advising her not to press her charges was today's contribution to incidents in the secret ecclesiastical trial of Dr. Jacob P. Price, Methodist clergyman, charged with misconduct by nine women members of his congregation.

Mrs. Dohi said on the stand that Dr. Price had made improper proposals to her and "treated her as no man had ever treated her before."

"Your accusations against Dr. Price," read the postal, "are all false. I suppose you are another suffragette clamoring for newspaper notoriety. Better let this matter drop."

REPORT OF ENGINEER ON GRANITE HIGHWAY

The executive committee of the Granite Highway association met last night and heard reports from the engineer, who has just completed a preliminary survey of the first half of the proposed route for the Granite Highway.

The road will extend from Decatur to Lithonia, a distance of 15 miles. The engineer estimated that the cost of building the road from Decatur to Stone Mountain, which is 9 miles, will be $240,000, provided the Stone Mountain quarry furnishes free of charge the broken stone to be used in the construction. This will make the cost of the entire road figure about $1,000,000. Half of the expense will be borne by property owners along the route and the remainder by DeKalb county.

How To Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.

It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop the hair from falling out. Here is a simple recipe which you can have at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. I know of cases where the hair has grown from four to five inches in a few months after using this simple recipe: To a half pint of water add Compound and 1-4 oz. of glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tip, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of the hair but darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.
